1,540 warning-procedure debt cases processed fully automatically, without court staff

ta.gov.lv · 9 September 2026 · LV · Civil procedure

The Court Administration reports that since July 1, 2026, part of the mandatory obligation-enforcement warning procedure (SPIBK) has run fully automated, from application registration to decision drafting, without court staff involvement. Between July 1 and September 7, courts received 14,061 applications, registered and assessed 13,238 cases, and completed 2,067 cases, of which 1,540 decisions were generated entirely automatically after the debtor's response deadline expired. 823 applications were rejected due to Civil Procedure Law restrictions (invalid address, incapacity, deceased debtor, etc.). Over 233,000 SPIBK applications were filed in all of 2025, and nearly 150,000 in the first half of 2026 alone.

Can a Creditor Collect a Debt Ten Years After the Debtor's Death

lvportals.lv · 7 September 2026 · LV · Law of obligations

An LV portāls legal Q&A addresses a creditor trying to collect roughly €700 in phone-bill debt from an estate ten years after the debtor's death. It notes commercial claims generally carry a three-year limitation period under the Commercial Law, interruptible by a reminder or acknowledgment of debt, but the key question is whether the creditor timely filed a claim in the inheritance proceeding. Since it is unclear whether an inheritance case was ever opened, the advice is to consult a sworn notary to determine whether the creditor's rights have lapsed.

Kalnozols Family's Unfinished House Goes to Auction Over Tax Debt

nra.lv · 8 September 2026 · LV · Real estate · Tax

NRA.lv reports on the unfinished home of the Kalnozols family in Ropaži, which has gone to auction over unpaid real-estate tax debt. Sworn bailiff Raimonds Mežiņš held a first auction in late August with a starting price of €266,000, but the property did not sell. The family disputes the municipality's tax valuation and says nearly €500,000 was invested in the house, which is being auctioned for less than €300,000.

Court Administration and European partners launch cross-border judicial digitalization project

ta.gov.lv · 10 September 2026 · LV · Judiciary & legal profession

The Court Administration and partners from Germany, Austria, Spain, the Netherlands and Greece have launched the "D-Rex 1" project to develop secure, interoperable digital solutions for cross-border judicial cooperation. Latvia, Germany, Spain and Greece shared experience implementing e-CODEX solutions for transmitting electronic evidence and court documents, while Austria and the Netherlands presented their own digital infrastructure approaches. The project covers technical implementation, user training and cross-border system testing; no specific duration or budget was disclosed publicly.

Insolvency transformation: from liquidation to timely business rescue

ta.gov.lv · 9 September 2026 · LV · Judiciary & legal profession

At a conference on September 9, around 150 participants discussed the future of insolvency policy, emphasizing a shift from a "liquidation culture" to a "rescue culture" focused on early detection of financial trouble and preserving viable businesses. The Insolvency Control Service will cease operating on September 30, 2026, with its functions transferring to the Ministry of Justice and the Court Administration from October 1. Officials named four priorities: balancing process speed with oversight, closer inter-agency coordination, developing the EMUS register into an analytical tool, and reviewing board-member liability rules.

MKD reports on insolvency administrators' AML compliance checks

mkd.gov.lv · 11 September 2026 · LV · Data protection & digital

MKD published the results of its first-half-2026 inspections of insolvency administrators' compliance with the anti-money-laundering/counter-terrorism-financing law and the sanctions law. The most common issues were incomplete documentation, weak internal control systems and inadequate client due diligence; four administrators received guidance for minor breaches, and one case resulted in a formal sanctions report for failing to report a suspicious transaction. MKD notes the pattern of violations is largely unchanged from 2024-2025.

Grain Transit Ban Could Trigger Lawsuits Worth Hundreds of Millions — Association

bb.lv · 9 September 2026 · RU · Contracts & trade

BB.LV reports that the Latvian Stevedoring Companies Association (LSA) warns that banning transit of Russian and Belarusian grain through Latvia could expose local firms, including state companies, to claims worth hundreds of millions of euros for breach of already-signed contracts. The association calls for assessing the economic and legal consequences before any decision, noting Latvia's infrastructure also carries grain belonging to major international traders, including US companies.

Advocate General: security-based exclusion from public procurement can comply with EU law

curia.europa.eu · 8 September 2026 · EN · Case law

Advocate General Andrea Biondi issued an opinion on September 8 in joined cases C-271/25 and C-334/25, concluding that member states may exclude economic operators from public procurement on national security grounds, provided EU-law principles are respected — proportionality, rights of defence and effective judicial protection. Case C-334/25 was referred by Lithuania's Supreme Court over the exclusion of "Skinest Baltija" from a railway procurement based on 2018 government decisions. The opinion is not binding on the Court but sets an important reference point for Baltic procurement practice, including Latvia's, in applying security-based exclusions.

Government to simplify expropriation of real estate for public needs

tm.gov.lv · 8 September 2026 · LV · Legislation

The government has backed amendments removing the need for a separate Cabinet of Ministers decision, after fair compensation is set, before the responsible authority can offer a property owner a voluntary sale agreement for expropriation for public needs (e.g. roads, railways). The change is expected to speed up the process by roughly a month and reduce red tape in large projects such as Rail Baltica, which previously required over 100 Cabinet decisions. Where a voluntary agreement cannot be reached, the existing procedure involving the Cabinet and Saeima still applies; the bill still needs Saeima approval.

New instrument to prevent double taxation in related-party transactions

sorainen.com · 10 September 2026 · LV · Commercial law

The article describes proposed amendments to Latvia's Corporate Income Tax Law adding new paragraphs 9 and 10 to Article 15, introducing counter-corrections for cross-border related-party transactions. The rules in force since 2018 allow only transfer-pricing corrections that increase the Latvian taxable base; the new mechanism would let a foreign related party voluntarily increase its own base, directly relieving double taxation without the previous procedure under tax treaties' Article 25 or the EU Arbitration Convention, which typically took 2-3 years.

An LV portāls consultation notes that under the Consumer Rights Protection Law, when goods are found non-conforming, the buyer first has the right to choose repair or replacement rather than immediately demanding a refund. A refund can be demanded only if the seller fails to fix the defect within a reasonable time or the defect is especially severe.

Parliamentary committee backs children's payment and coming-of-age investment accounts

fm.gov.lv · 8 September 2026 · LV · Legislation

On September 8, the Saeima's Budget and Finance (Tax) Committee backed amendments to the Financial Instruments Market Law and the Payment Services and Electronic Money Law that would let parents or guardians open and manage children's payment accounts regardless of age, and create new "coming-of-age investment accounts" that can be opened from age one, restricted to simple financial instruments. A child gains independent control of the payment account at 16 and of the investment account at majority; funds cannot secure obligations, and early withdrawal requires court approval. The amendments still need final Saeima approval.

Luminor Purchase in Question Over OTP Bank's Russia Ties

bb.lv · 8 September 2026 · RU · Commercial law

BB.LV reports that Hungary's OTP Bank, which plans to buy Luminor Bank, has only begun the regulatory approval process — as of last week, documents had not yet reached Estonia's supervisors or the European Central Bank, though the application was later filed simultaneously in several countries. The Bank of Latvia points to heightened reputational risks tied to OTP's continued operations in Russia, stressing the deal still needs national supervisors' and the ECB's approval.

ECB raises interest rates again: what it means for residents

financelatvia.eu · 11 September 2026 · LV

On 10 September the European Central Bank unanimously raised its key interest rates by 0.25 percentage points, taking the deposit rate to 2.50%. The ECB forecasts eurozone inflation at 3.0% in 2026, and markets are pricing in three more rate hikes through summer 2027. Higher rates will make borrowing, including EURIBOR-linked loans in Latvia, more expensive.

DVI clarifies data disclosure rules for missing persons' obligations

dvi.gov.lv · 11 September 2026 · LV · Law of obligations

DVI explains that a missing person's personal data may be disclosed to relatives or to service providers (creditors, banks, utilities) under the GDPR's legitimate-interest ground (Article 6(1)(f)) when needed to settle urgent payments or obligations. Providers must verify the requester's identity, family relationship and the person's missing status, and apply data minimization. The aim is to prevent debt accumulation or contractual penalties while disclosing only what is strictly necessary.

DVI explains when businesses may refuse service over withheld data

dvi.gov.lv · 7 September 2026 · LV

DVI clarifies that a service provider may refuse service only if it can justify an objective need for the specific data requested. Merely listing data fields in a contract or application form does not automatically make providing them mandatory. The guidance reiterates the GDPR data-minimization principle: businesses may only collect data necessary for a specific purpose, not for convenience or established practice.

Cyberattack on Repair Company TSC Exposes About 7% of Customer Data

lsm.lv · 11 September 2026 · LV · Commercial law

LSM.lv reports that a cyberattack on TSC, an LMT-group appliance and device repair company, exposed roughly 7% of customer data — mainly names, email addresses and phone numbers of clients who submitted repair requests via its website. LMT's own databases were unaffected, and the company temporarily closed its website for security reasons. Its head said compensation would be assessed case by case.

What should a company do in the event of a cybersecurity incident?

sorainen.com · 9 September 2026 · LV · Commercial law

The article summarises the steps a company should take after a cybersecurity incident: notify management, isolate affected systems, conduct a risk analysis, and report to supervisory authorities within statutory deadlines. Under the National Cybersecurity Law, incidents must be reported to CERT.LV within 24 hours, 72 hours and one month; GDPR requires notifying the Data State Inspectorate within 72 hours where the breach poses a risk to individuals' rights. Violations carry administrative fines of up to EUR 20 million or 4% of turnover under GDPR and up to EUR 10 million or 2% under the cybersecurity law, plus possible liability under Criminal Law Article 245.

Crypto Laws Are Pushing Companies Out of the EU

nra.lv · 7 September 2026 · LV · Commercial law

NRA.lv reports that the EU's Markets in Crypto-Assets Regulation (MiCA) has imposed strict licensing requirements on crypto firms — capital reserves, compliance certification, cybersecurity and anti-money-laundering measures. Many small companies and startups in Estonia, Poland and elsewhere in the EU face a choice between costly compliance or relocating to jurisdictions such as the UAE, Georgia or the US. The article concludes the rules are consolidating the market around larger, better-capitalized players, dampening innovation and entrepreneurship in Latvia and the EU.
